

Sunday, May 31, 2009

Rand Paul for Kentucky Senate in 2010?

Rand Paul, son of Congressman Ron Paul from Texas, is interviewed by Lew Rockwell on his potential run for the U.S. Senate for Kentucky in 2010. Lew Rockwell interviews Rand Paul - the other Dr. Paul - regarding a possible run for the U.S. Senate from Kentucky. Subjects discussed include:

- What it is like being the son of Dr. Ron Paul
- Whether or not he was named after Ayn Rand
- His exploratory committee for U.S. Senate in Kentucky
- Whether he would consider running against incumbent U.S. Senator Jim Bunning

Lew Rockwell's interview with Rand Paul is below:

Rand Paul discusses whether or not he was named after Ayn Rand:

Rand Paul 2010 U.S. Senate Official Site

Listen to Rand Paul for Kentucky Senate in 2010?

Posted by Terry Kinder in Podcast at 20:49

Sunday, May 24, 2009

Lew Rockwell Podcast - Jack Spirko: How to Survive the Depression and Worse

Jack Spirko discusses how to survive the current and worsening economic upheaval. Also, interesting discussion of how survivalism encourages libertarianism.

Posted by Terry Kinder in Podcast at 00:31

Sunday, October 26, 2008

Ron Paul on the Economic Crisis and the Future

Lew Rockwell interviews Ron Paul regarding the current economic crisis and the future.

Lew Rockwell interviews Ron Paul regarding the current economic crisis and the future.

Keywords: Ron Paul, Lew Rockwell, Federal Reserve, Fed, economy, Alan Greenspan, saving, malinvestment, dollar, central bank, New World Order, inflation, gold, free market, credit crunch, market correction, borrowing, lending, frugality, morality, live within means, Bretton Woods

[audio:20080919132626597]

Posted by Terry in Podcast at 18:19